VEGETINE

FOR

Chills, Shakes, FEVER AND AGUE.

TARBORO, N. C., 1878.

DR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir—I feel very grateful for what your valuable medicine, Vegetine, has done in my family. I wish to express my thanks by informing you of the wonderful cure of my son; also, to let you know that Vegetine is the best medicine I ever saw for Chills, Shakes, Fever and Ague. My son was sick with measles in 1873, which left him with Hip-joint disease. My son suffered a great deal of pain, all of the time; the pain was so great he did nothing but cry. The doctors did not help him a particle, he could not lift his foot from the floor, he could not move without crutches. I read your advertisement in the Louisville Courier-Journal, that Vegetine was a great Blood Purifier and Blood Food. I tried one bottle, which was a great benefit. He kept on with the medicine, gradually gaining. He has taken eighteen bottles in all, and he is completely restored to health, walks without crutches or cane. He is twenty years of age. I have a younger son fifteen years of age, who is subject to Chills. Whenever he feels one coming on, he comes in, takes a dose of Vegetine and that is the last of the Chill. Vegetine leaves no bad effect upon the system like most of the medicines recommended for Chills. I cheerfully recommend Vegetine for such complaints. I think it is the greatest medicine in the world.

Respectfully, MRS. J. W. LLOYD.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE

FOR

Dyspepsia, Nervousness, AND GENERAL DEBILITY.

BERNARDSTON, MASS., 1878.

We, the undersigned, having used Vegetine, take pleasure in recommending it to all those troubled with humors of any kind, dyspepsia, nervousness, or General Debility, it being the Great Blood Purifier. Sold by R. L. Crowell & Sons, who sell more of it than all other patent medicine put together.

MRS. L. F. PERKINS.
MRS. H. W. SCOTT.
JOSEPHUS SLATE.

VEGETINE is the great health restorer—composed exclusively of barks, roots, and herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

VEGETINE

NERVOUS HEADACHE And Rheumatism.

CINCINNATI, O., April 9, 1877.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:—

Dear Sir,—I have used your Vegetine for nervous headache, and also for rheumatism, and have found entire relief from both, and take great pleasure in recommending it to all who may be likewise afflicted.

FRED. A. GOOD, 103 Mill St., Cinn.

VEGETINE has restored thousands to health who had been long and painful sufferers.

VEGETINE.

DRUGGISTS' TESTIMONY

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—We have been selling your remedy, the Vegetine, for about three years, and take pleasure in recommending it to our customers, and in no instance where a blood purifier would reach the case, has it ever failed to effect a cure, to our knowledge. It certainly is the ne plus ultra of renovators.

Respectfully,
E. M. SHEPHERD & CO., Druggists,
Mt. Vernon, Ill.

It is acknowledged by all classes of people to be the best and most reliable blood purifier in the world.

GENERAL NEWS.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA.

PROBABILITIES OF WAR.

Both Parties Getting Ready.

LONDON, March 31.

A dispatch from Vienna says Gen. Ignatieff's mission has failed entirely, and that he has left Vienna for St. Petersburg via Berlin, where he will have an interview with Prince Bismarck. The same dispatch says Austria has decided she will not negotiate with Russia on the basis of the treaty of San Stefano.

ENTHUSIASM.

A dispatch from Pesth says the Hungarian Parliament has enthusiastically received the proposals for an Anglo-Russian alliance.

POPULAR FEELING.

Dispatches received here from Berlin, Paris and Vienna state the popular feeling in those cities among the masses favors England and against Russia in the present state of affairs.

A WARLIKE REQUEST.

ATHENS, March 31.

It is reported that England has asked Greece to permit the landing and encampment of an expeditionary force on its territory.

CARDINAL MC CLOSKY.

ROME, March 31.

His Eminence, Cardinal McClosky, took his farewell of the Pope today.

ORDERED KRUPP GUNS.

BERLIN, March 31.

The Russian Government has ordered five hundred Krupp guns in addition to its previous order.

A QUARREL.

LONDON, April 1.

A dispatch from Constantinople says a slight quarrel has occurred at St. Stefano between some English and Russian sailors. The same dispatch says it is again announced that the Russians have decided to occupy Cayukdere.

CANADIAN WAR FEELING.

Military Movements.

MONTREAL, March 30.

Two Montreal garrison artillery are directed to hold themselves in readiness to relieve the Royal Artillery at Halifax, the latter being recalled to England for active service. It is also stated on good authority that that Dominion government has been requested by the Home government to place British Columbia in a state of proper defence against invasion.

Serious Fire in Springfield, Mass.

SPRINGFIELD, March 30.

A fire this morning destroyed section No. 5 of the Wason Car Company's building on Taylor street. The Connecticut Valley Chromo lithograph Company lose $30,000; insured for $34,000; Seymour & Brother, paper-box manufacturers, $4,000; insured for $3,500. The loss on the building is $3,000; fully insured. The fire probably was caused by spontaneous combustion.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

The Republican Senatorial Caucus.

WASHINGTON, March 31.

The Republican caucus yesterday lasted a little over an hour, and was not inharmonious. It was the result of a talk between a number of Senators upon the general subject of a possible arrangement of differences within the party, and between Congress and the President. Several of those whose views and feelings it was important to know, such as Conkling, etc., were not present. The necessity for harmony was admitted on all sides, but there was considerable difference of opinion as to the means of bringing it about, and those who visited the President on a former occasion, as a committee of Senators, recalled their experience and expressed themselves as not anxious to try again. It is expected another caucus will be held the coming week.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD PRO RATE LEGISLATION.

The Senate railroad committee has agreed to a bill compelling the Pacific Railroads to pro rate with each other, and constituting a commission of three, of which Charles Francis Adams is one, a Southern man the second, and the third as yet undetermined, to take charge of the subject, hear all complaints, and carry all violations of law into the Courts.

THE MISSING VANCE.

Mr. Vance, ex-Representative from Ohio, reported to have mysteriously disappeared, has been traced by friends to St. Louis, and thence to Kansas City, where, however, he did not stop. He is badly wanted in Washington.

THE GREEK INSURRECTION.

Macrinitza Captured by the Turks. Heavy Losses on Both Sides.

ATHENS, March 31.

The Turkish force, estimated at 10,000, have stormed the insurgent positions on Mount Pelion, and captured Macrinitza. The insurgents are entrenching new positions. The losses on both sides were heavy. The news of another battle is momentarily expected.

FROM ENGLAND.

LONDON, April 1.

A Vienna despatch to the Daily Telegraph says Count Andrassy is making fresh efforts to bring about the meeting of the Congress, and thinks Russia will eventually yield to England's demand. Count Andrassy informed General Ignatieff that the whole tendency of the treaty was in opposition to the interests of Europe, and that no lasting peace could be concluded without the sanction of all the powers. Ignatieff rejoined that Russia had altogether abandoned the idea of a Congress in consequence of the difficulties raised by England. He urged Andrassy to state Austria's demands. The count declined, as he still hoped for a Congress; but declared that if he had to consider the treaty solely from an Austrian point of view he would demand far greater concessions than if he had to consider it in relation to the general interests of Europe. Ignatieff also failed to convince the Emperor.

WISDOM.

A cheerful face is nearly as good for a patient as healthy weather.

It is resignation and contentment that are best calculated to lead us safely through life.

We should do by our cunning as we do by our courage—always have it ready to defend ourselves, but never to offend others.

The name of a beautiful soul belongs to a woman when her virtues spring from her nature, and her culture grows out of her character.

If we would have powerful minds, we must think; if we would have faithful hearts, we must love; if we would have strong muscles, we must labor.

Wit loses its respect with the good when seen in company with malice; and to smile at the jest which plants a thorn in another's breast is to become a principal in the mischief.

"Use great prudence and circumspection in choosing thy wife," said Lord Burleigh to his son; "for from thence will spring all thy future good or evil; and it is an action of lifelike unto a stratagem of war, wherein a man can err but once."

KEEP BORAX IN THE HOUSE.—In the laundry it is economical, as it saves both labor and soap, and is really cheaper than the latter. For blankets and other large articles it is especially valuable, and in all cases the use of a little borax will save half the labor when the articles are much soiled. It is perfectly effectual in driving away red ants, cockroaches, etc., if sprinkled around on shelves or put in the run-ways of the insects. Borax is also of great value for toilet uses. For removing dandruff and cleansing the hair it is unequalled. It is also a good remedy for rough face and chapped hands. Its application to wounds, sores, bruises, sprains, etc., proves very salutary, and is often the only remedy required, even in severe cases.

Some developments of a recent pigeon match in New York are not calculated to remove the impressions of humanitarians that pigeon shooting is a cruel business. The birds selected for the match were trained for rapid flight by being taken out daily and shot at with sand, while when put in the traps they were pinched and had their tail feathers pulled out, so that the pain would make them fly the faster.

POE RECITING "THE RAVEN."

Once, in discussing "The Raven," Poe observed that he had never heard it correctly delivered by even the best readers—that is, not as he desired that it should be read. That evening, a number of visitors being present, he was requested to recite the poem and complied. His impressive delivery held the company spell-bound, but, in the midst of it, I, happening to glance toward the open window above the level roof of the green-house, beheld a group of sable faces, the whites of whose eyes shone in strong relief against the surrounding darkness. These were a number of our family servants, who, having heard much talk about "Mr. Poe the poet," and having but an imperfect idea of what a poet was, had requested permission of my brother to witness the recital. As the speaker became more impassioned and excited, more conspicuous grew the circle of white eyes, until, when at length he turned suddenly toward the window, and, extending his arm, cried with awful vehemence:—

> "Get thee back into the tempest, and the night's Plutonian shore!"

there was a sudden disappearance of the sable visages, a scuttling of feet, and the gallery audience was gone. Ludicrous as was the incident, the final touch was given when, at that moment, Miss Poe, who was an extraordinary character in her way, sleepily entered the room, and, with a dull and drowsy deliberation, seated herself on her brother's knee. He had subsided from his excitement into a gloomy despair, and now, fixing his eyes upon his sister, he concluded:—

> "And the raven, never flitting, still is sitting, still is sitting,
> On the pallid bust of Pallas, just above my chamber door;
> And its eyes have all the seeming of a demon that is dreaming—"

"The effect was irresistible, and as the final "nevermore" was solemnly uttered, the half suppressed titter of two very young persons in a corner was responded to by a general laugh. Poe remarked quietly that, on his next delivery of a public lecture, he would "take Rose along, to act the part of the raven, in which she seemed born to excel."—[Mrs. Susan Archer Weiss in Scribner's for March.

WE MUST BE AMUSED.

Man is organized for amusement, for avocations of a light and mirthful character. Into the processes by which amusing results are obtainable, the whole intellect and most of those faculties which are classified among the graver elements of mind may enter and actively operate. The grade or quality of the things which amuse us differs in accordance with our individual organization, its co-ordinate relation and development. Hence some persons find enjoyment in ways which to others appear absurd or contemptible, while some find diversion in what to most people appears serious and devoid of every essential of mirth. To be amused habitually by vicious or impure display, either in conduct or language, indicates a perverted mentality or undeveloped moral organism.

In youth diversion is a necessity, as one of the means which nature employs for the growth of mind and body; and if a proper field for the requisite diversion be not available, it will be sought in channels more or less reprehensible. The parent who frowns upon the light amusements of the social circle, the merry song and lively game, the concert and entertainment where laughter-provoking quip and joke and repartee fill up the measure of the hour, is not likely to inculcate in his children a love of home, that principle so essential to the integrity of the domestic relation and to communal prosperity. That community which permits its young members who are without the settled relation of home and family to float around from one drinking saloon or low place of amusement to another during the hours of release from labor, instead of providing a place to which they may repair and find a variety of facilities for pleasurable recreation, must expect a growth of the immoral element, and an increase from year to year, while such a condition is permitted, of the demoralizing rendezvous.

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT OF THE NEW DOLLAR.

There has been some delay in getting out counterfeits of the new silver dollar, but now new issues are received at the Treasury Department that promise an era of prosperity for the cheap money men. The Treasury authorities are absolutely staggered at the excellence of these counterfeits. They are made of a composite metal that has the weight, clear ring and appearance of silver. Brooks, Chief of the Secret Service, showed some of these new coins to Dr. Linderman and asked him what he thought of them. "Think," said Dr. Linderman, "they are better than the Government coin," and this is the general opinion of all who see them. There is no way for any one not an expert to detect these coins without testing them. There is nothing about them to attract suspicion and they will pass without suspicion in all general business transactions.

The congressmen who have always claimed to be in favor of such reforms as Mr. Hayes is carrying out, but never open their mouths in his support, are beginning to hear from their constituents. Mr. Wait, the only republican from Connecticut in the House, stood up creditably for Hayes when Chamberlain pitched into him at Woodstock last Fourth of July, but we believe nothing has been heard from him since. The Windham County Transcript, one of the leading republican papers in his district, doesn't like this sort of thing, and informs him that "this old Gibralter of republicanism" wants to hear a few words from him in support of the president it believes in. Some other gentlemen at the capitol are liable to get similar hints from their constituents.

There is nothing like sticking at a thing. Continual dropping will wear away the rock and continual boring has brought the Maryland Legislature to the point of passing Montgomery Blair's high-pressure resolutions calling for a judicial investigation of the title of Mr. Hayes to the Presidency. They do not amount to anything, now that they are passed, and perhaps the Maryland legislature, in their despair, thought their passage was, after all, the easiest way of getting rid of their distinguished and irrepressible author. But who knows what legislature may be pounced upon next?—[Phil. Times

Simon Cameron turned several double somersaults in escaping unhurt from the wreck of a train on the Vandalia line, near Troy, Ill., on Saturday night last, while he was returning from the Hot Springs. When he concluded his performance he said: "That's not so bad for a man of eighty!"

The Baroness Adolphe de Rothschild has just bought for $70,000 two groups in bronze, discovered in an old Venetian palace and attributed to Michael Angelo. Hall's Air Draught Carpet Sweeper.

Your attention is respectfully solicited to a NEW and RADICALLY IMPROVED CARPET SWEEPER, which from its PECULIAR SCIENTIFIC CONSTRUCTION, as SIMPLE and EFFICIENT action and FREEDOM from all objections of either BROOM or BRUSH renders it FAR SUPERIOR to any known device for removing the DUST or DIRT from the SURFACE of the CARPET.

Among the MANY advantages it possesses are the following:

It contains neither BRUSH or COG-WHEEL.

It removes the dust FROM the CARPET instead of INTO it.

It does NOT make any DUST in the room.

It will remove the DUST from the CORNERS and sides of the ROOM.

It will NOT wear the carpet.

It is almost NOISELESS.

It is NOT liable to get out of order.

A rotating CURRENT of AIR is passed over the Carpet, taking with it any Dust, Dirt, Papers, Feathers, Canary Seeds, Crumbs, Pins, Thread or Lint with which it may come in contact, and depositing them in a receptacle from which they can be removed at pleasure.

The NEATNESS with which this little Machine does its work, and the EASE with which it is operated, will be appreciated by every housekeeper who examines it.

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal, Terms $2 00 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE. These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

TO OUR PATRONS.

The publisher of the Newport Mercury has taken occasion, publicly and privately, to misrepresent the circulation of our papers as well as his own. In justice to ourselves and our advertisers, we have publicly denied the truthfulness of his statements and made a proposition to submit the proofs to a disinterested and impartial tribunal, which he declines, though persisting in his false statements. He probably refuses to exhibit his books in comparison with our own for the following reasons:

1,—They will show that he has not one half the circulation which he persistently and publicly claims.

2.—That we have more than three times the circulation that he ascribes to us, both in the city and county of Newport.

3.—That his circulation is less now than formerly and has been subject to a steady decline.

4,—That ours has regularly increased and is now larger than ever before.

MONDAY, APRIL 1, 1878.

THE DAY.

All fools day!

All fools are not dead.

If all the fools were dead there would be a great falling off of the population.

A bill has passed the House of Representatives in the General Assembly appropriating $500 to the Aquidneck Agricultural Society.

The Keeley motor which promised such great things is wholly unable to perform. It has recently been examined by an expert and pronounced a dead failure.

Large quantities of grain were bought in New York on Saturday, for the European war. The extraordinary demand caused a sharp advance in freights and a considerable rise of breadstuffs generally.

An old weather proverb says that "if it thunders on All Fools' day, it brings good crops of corn and hay." Has anyone heard it thunder today? The clouds look as though Jupiter might have sent a telephonic message suited to the occasion.

The Daily News Job Printing Office was never in better condition for business than at present. It is in charge of an experienced foreman who understands the business, and we are prepared to do all kinds of work on short notice and in the best style.

Notwithstanding the thickness of the war cloud that hangs over Europe we are not prepared to believe that England and Russia will resort to arms. It is evident that there is no occasion for war as the difficulties to be adjusted are of compáritively little account.

Politics rule the hour. The Republicans have a caucus at the State House Tuesday evening and the Democrats rally in force at the same time, the public meeting to be followed by a caucus. The Temperance men are already in the field purposing to have a hand in the fight and the Nationals, or Greenbackers are lying low and watching their opportunity.

Affairs in Fall River begin to look squally. The operatives had a great mass meeting Saturday and talked treason to the laws and threatened vengeance to the mill owners. We should suppose it would begin to be clear, even to a Fall River capitalist, that it is not safe to have so many factories in any one community. It brings together too large a class of dangerous agitators, and exposes the community to evils of the worst kind. And yet new mills are talked of and are actually in process of erection, though it is known to every one that the capacity for production is already much greater than the demand. We may be mistaken in our views of the subject but it seems to us that Fall River is on the verge of a volcano that is likely to explode at almost any moment.

The attempt to disturb the President's title and reopen all the floodgates of political excitement at this time is very unfortunate for the country. We are just now settling down on a solid basis and with a fair prospect of recovery from our financial ills, and what we need above all things else is peace. If, just as the people are in condition to proceed with their business arrangements on a satisfactory basis, new elements of uncertainty and distrust are to be called into being the returning prosperity of the nation will be for a long time postponed. Except to the politicians it matters little whether Hayes or Tilden is President, but it is of great consequence that the people be left free from excitement and be allowed to pursue their way without the constant spectre of revolution before their eyes. While there is no probability that the Blair movement can succeed, it is certain to work mischief to the nation and block the wheels of business in almost every department.

The Providence Journal charges "Farmer Lawrence" with having sent a copy of the wrong speech to the Boston Herald as the one obtained and published in that paper as delivered in Woonsocket is altogether different from its own report. But as it is spring time and the farmers are busy Mr. Lawrence will probably find no time to explain.

We are pained to be compelled to announce, the death of another of Mr. Haddock's children from diphtheria. This case would seem to afford an illustration of the correctness of Dr. Whitney's article in todays paper as the premises occupied by Mr. Haddock have been thoroughly inspected by two of our physicians and everything pronounced in excellent condition. There are no other cases in the family.

The friends of Gov. Van Zandt cannot be indifferent to the progress of the pending political campaign. It is evident that the time has come for work as there was never so vigorous an effort made by the democrats to carry the state. It will not do to fall back on the dignity of party nor trust to its overwhelming majority. Strange things happen in politics sometimes, and it will be well to look out for them, and be prepared for emergencies.

George Francis Train don't like Chicago. He has been there on a lecturing excursion and feels that he was badly treated. He threatens to sue two of the newspapers for libel and publishes a card giving his opinion of the chief city of the West as follows:—

"Chicago, macadamized with jails, asylums, and almshouses, is on the down grade! Planted in a swamp! Built by accident on a quagmire! Jack-screwed every year to keep it out of the lake! Shingled all over with ruinous Eastern mortgages! Saturated with alcohol, tobacco and opium! Diseased with hog meat and Texan rinderpest! Settled with enterprising business men from the East, whose capital consisted of cheek, brag and bluster, whose enterprise and morality are made up of Tweedism, Grantism, and Beecherism! Who grew rich out of their trustee handling of the world's donation funds after the great fire! No wonder the city treasury is bankrupt, and its people bordering on starvation, in the face of elevators filled with corn!"

Hambly and Job Wardell for Town Council; Holden N. Wilcox for Moderator and Job Wardell for Town Treasurer.

FARMER LAWRENCE.

We have heard the following anecdote in relation to the "plain farmer" candidate of the Democratic party. He delivered a speech some years ago to the farmers of Tiverton, and took especial pains to testify to his affection for the honest yeomen of the rural districts. Said he, "I was born on a farm; I have always had the utmost respect for the farmers; in fact I may be said to have been born between two rows of corn." At this point one of his interested auditors rather spoiled the effect by exclaiming "A pumpkin, by thunder."—[Exchange.

—The original Williams will be at the hall of the Reform club tonight and will present some stereopticon views, illustrating the life of a drunkard. There will also be recitations, readings, music &c., by members of the club.

—Police business was very dull last month, as will be seen by the City Marshal's report:—Arrested for drunkenness, 29; held on warrant, 2; shop breaking, 2; Safe keeping, 1; vagrancy, 4. Total 38. The number of the lodgers accommodated was 72.

—Mr. Robert Elliott who had a fit in Titus & Freeborn's store a few days ago, died last night. He was a most estimable young man and had many friends who will mourn his untimely end. Deceased was a member of Hercules Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 7, and of the Newport Light Infantry.

—A petition is being circulated among our citizens for signatures, to be presented to the City Council, asking that honorable body to refuse hack licences to parties who come from Providence, and elsewhere during the summer season only, for the especial purpose of running their own conveyances, which they bring with them, leaving as soon as business declines. The number of such vehicles seems to be on the increase each year, and they are a great detriment to the Newport hackmen, who, as a class, are not unfair in their charges and accommodations, and should have the patronage of the community.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?—The Boston Sunday Herald has the following: "The fact that efforts are being made to oust City Marshal Harwood E. Read from office by a prominent citizen, because the former fearlessly had him arrested recently upon a serious charge, has caused considerable of a flutter. The citizen referred to is immensely wealthy, and will leave nothing undone that will tend to the defeat of Mr. Read. Workers are to be placed in every ward, and no little money will be spent. The grand jury lacked one of finding an indictment against the Marshal's enemy. The contest will be watched with no little interest."

MR. CHARLES B. STETSON.

This gentleman, who has been a visitor in our city during the past few weeks, died Sunday morning at the residence of his friends, Rev. and Mrs. John C. Kimball, after a severe illness of eight or ten days. Mr. Stetson was a native of Maine and received his classical education at Bowdoin College, after which he was a teacher for several years at the South, where he was obliged to go on account of ill health. Returning to New England before the war, he was for some time the editor of a weekly paper at Lewiston Falls, Maine, from which he was called to the editorial staff of the Portland Advertiser, and still later to that of the New York Express, all of which positions he filled with marked ability. His interest in education, however, always predominated over everything else, and, returning to Maine after a period of dangerous sickness, he was appointed Supervisor of public schools in Androscoggin county. This position he left in 1872 to come to Boston where he had been invited by James R. Osgood & Co., to aid in getting out their new series of text books on art education, in doing which he found the real bent of his genius. His engagement with them, however, was only for a definite period of each year, and the rest of the time for several seasons was devoted to lecturing and holding teachers' institutes and exciting a general interest in the subject of practical art education, the field of his labors being Vermont and Maine. His success everywhere was very complete, and the interest aroused was so great that for a while he was under a special engagement with the State of Vermont to carry out and superintend the system explained. He wrote many newspaper and magazine articles, and in 1874 put out a very valuable work entitled Technical Education, issued first by Osgood and then by Prang & Co., of which three editions have been printed and which has received the highest commendations of educators and business men both at home and abroad. He remained with James R. Osgood & Co., till their work in this respect was transferred to Prang & Co., the famous lithograph establishment, when he was engaged by them to continue in the same line of service, which he did very much to their satisfaction, till obliged in July last to suspend all active labors.

For many years an invalid and often having seasons of very severe pain and prostration, he nevertheless has managed to accomplish a large amount of valuable work. His interest in technical and art education was very great, and he had that practical knowledge of our American school system which made his assistance in the preparation and introduction of Educational Art Works of very high value. He was very actively engaged during the great Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia in making studies, comparisons and reports on this favorite topic. One of the text books now in our own city schools was almost entirely his work, although his name does not appear within its covers. Miss Helen Potter, the famous reader and dramatic personator, was for several years his pupil, friend and co-laborer; and at the time of his last sickness they were working together on a new series of school books to be published by a leading firm of the country.

Mr. Stetson had a very clear, scholarly mind, a subtle and peculiar humor, fine taste, especially in his own chosen field of work, a great deal of practical knowledge and common sense, and, running through this like a thread of silver in the solid rock, a fine, delicate vein of real genius. He was very companionable, though modest and retiring from public view. His mind was full of fresh and striking ideas which in private talk he was always ready to pour out. He had a dash, too, of the poetic insight, and the few of his pieces published in early life are rich in promise. Not only the wife, son and daughter that he leaves behind him and to whom he was devotedly attached, but everybody who knew him loved him. He was one of the purest, truest men that ever lived; honest, genuine and straightforward all through, liberal and public spirited in his views, gentle and quiet in manner, and with many of those subtle graces of character which we all feel and recognize but which it is very hard to describe in words. He was full of plans for the future, even up to his last hours. Much work that no one else can do so well has been waiting for months the touch of his recovered hand and thought. He would have proved a most valuable man, had he lived, to the educational interests of society in that change of system which is sure sooner or later to come about; and even now, though dying at the early age of forty seven, he has realized in his life work his own last words, "It is well done."

DIPHTHERIA ONCE MORE.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

SIR:—I read with great attention Dr. Storer's communication in your paper of the 26th inst. He calls diphtheria "a filth disease." If this be true, it is wholly preventable. If not true, it is not preventable. I am inclined to the belief that "epidemic influence," has much to do with the ailment, as the cause, and that bad hygienic surroundings, may determine where it shall fall with the greatest severity.

Some view diphtheria and membranous croup identical (see Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, 28 inst., and I have seen many instances to corroborate this opinion. "Catching cold!" how does this act when epidemic influence is present? And breathing foul air no doubt puts the system in a state to have the disease in its severest form.

There is a strong disposition to place diseases in the contagious list, that have not heretofore been so regarded, and in a short time, we may expect to hear that ordinary lung fever (pneumonia) is infectious.

All through Dr. Storer's article there is a suggestion that there is something beside "filth" as a cause, and here is your description of the residence of Mr. Murray, where that singular fatality has occurred. It is a mile or two from the compact part of the city and cannot be in the least affected by our public sanitary regulations. "It is upon a high cliff overlooking the sea, fanned continually by fresh ocean breezes and the case cannot be charged to city influences of any kind. Whatever defect there may be in sanitary conditions, (and there is undoubtedly something wrong,) must be strictly local and confined to the premises themselves. And so in the other cases, the disease has broken out and run its course but has not extended except in very rare instances, thus showing that local instead of general influences have been at work." "Epidemic influence" has in such a residence its full force; and the chance to "catch cold" is certainly very great. What is the difference between common inflammatory sore throat, and diphtheria and how is the difference brought about? Will inflammatory sore throat be diphtheria, if "filth" as above be added to catching cold? I think not.

If one is subjected to foul air, pallor, loss of appetite, and nausea, usualy follows, and frequently typhoid fever. Filth taken into the system in liquid will do the same kind of mischief.

The system is in that condition, in which false membrane does not form; in fact, the very opposite state exists, that is, a tendency to disintegration pertains. The formation of false membrane, requires vitality.

If it is "a filth disease" those only subject to filth, will have it. We all know the most cleanly contract the ailment, and there are thousands of instances where one only in a given household has it, all alike being subject to the same filth influences, with the one contracting it.

Again diphtheria appears and then disappears for years, and during its absence, "filth" is a constant factor as a cause of disease, and I insist, induces a set of ailments, in which false membrane, is most conspicuously absent.

What would happen to a family with very bad hygenic surroundings, during epidemic influenza? Why, death to a part of such family, when none of their neighbors died, although having the disease.

J. O. WHITNEY,

Pawtucket, March 30.

IMPROVED FORM OF SEWER-GAS TRAP.

The usual S—shaped trap for arresting the backward flow of gas from sewers, has the disadvantage of being liable to siphonage. That is, it becomes emptied of its load of water, and leaves the pipe open to the free escape of dangerous gases. Such water-seals have also the objection that, even if the water keeps its place, it will absorb the gas and afterward emit it, and thus the gas practically finds its way through the trap. An improved form of trap that will not act as a siphon and discharge the water, and that will prevent the passage of the gas through the water, employs a deep cup-shaped trap having a loose-globe-shaped valve. The pipe from the house descends half-way into this cup, and fits tightly into the cover of the trap. The outlet is placed at the side of the trap near the top. The end of the inlet pipe is cut off square, and below this is placed a hollow rubber ball. On letting the water run, the trap fills and the rubber ball rises by its buoyancy, and seating itself against the end of the inlet pipe, effectually closes the trap. The excess of water overflows into the sewer-pipe and a perfect water-seal is established. If more water enters, the ball gives way before it and the water flows through the trap till the equilibrium is restored, when the ball again acts as a valve and closes the trap. It will be seen that there can be no escape of the gas by absorption through the water, because the water is not exposed to the air above the valve. Nor can the back pressure of the gas from the sewer drive the water out of the trap, as the greater the back pressure the tighter the valve is pressed up against its seat. This trap may be constructed of glass, so that it may be conveniently inspected without taking it apart. The great importance of this whole question to prevent the inflow of gas from sewers, makes this and all inventions of a like character worthy of careful attention.—[Scribner's Monthly.

The improved trap described above can be obtained of Messrs. McAdam & Openshaw and Mr. Clarence Greason of this city.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A SUGGESTION TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

Tourists, emigrants and mariners find that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a medicinal safeguard against unhealthful influences, upon which they can implicitly rely, since it prevents the effects that an unhealthy climate, vitiated atmosphere, unaccustomed or unwholesome diet, bad water, or other conditions unfavorable to health would otherwise produce. On long voyages, or journeys by land in latitudes adjacent to the equator, it is especially useful as a preventative of the febrile complaints and disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, which are apt to attack natives of the temperate zones sojourning or traveling in such regions, and it is an excellent protection against the influence of extreme cold, sudden changes of temperature, exposure to damp or extreme fatigue. It not only prevents intermittent and remittent fever, and other diseases of a malarial type, but eradicates them, a fact which has been notorious for years past in North and South America, Mexico, the West Indies, Australia and other countries.

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing consumption, hemorrhages, pneumonia, severe coughs, croup or any disease of the throat or lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10c.; regular size 75c. For sale by J. H. Taylor, Newport.

THINK OF IT, that a Cough or Cold neglected, may lead to serious consequences: in the early stage of Throat and Lung diseases, Madame Porter's Cough Balsam is an invaluable remedy, can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child. Is safe, reliable, and agreeable to the taste. Price 25 cents, and in large bottles at 50 and 75 cents.

SUNDRIES.

The Portland Argus wants somebody to empty a bottle of mucilage on Blaine's seat.

Music master of the future: Help! help! I've turned on Wagner, and—oh, lord—I can't stop him!

A great many correspondents are telling us what it will cost to go to the Paris Exposition this summer, but they don't tell us where to get the money.—[Boston Post.

Josh Billings says—"I notiss one thing, the man who rides on the kars every day is satisfied with one seat, but the man who rides once a year wants at least four."

Barnum has tendered the entire Connecticut Legislature a free pass to his circus and menagerie. The little amenities between rival shows are very pleasing.—N. Y. Com'l Adv.

What a blessing the phonograph will be to editors. The bores can slip right into the phonograph room, and plead with the instrument, and the editor can grind it all out afterwards, if he wants to.

When the recording angel observes a minister of the gospel holding a nail between his fingers, while he misses it with a hammer, the trustworthy scribe drops into a brown study and pretends not to hear anything.—[Turner's Fall Reporter.

The future of the phonograph—Ardent lover; "You ask for some proof of my affections, my devotion. What proof can I offer you? Stay! I have it! I am ready to breathe my vows into the Young Lady's Best Companion, or Breach-of-Promise-Self-Registering-Evidence-Phonograph. There!

Dr. Englemann stated, on the 19th inst., that this spring at St. Louis was the earliest in respect to vegetation that he had observed there in forty-five years. The nearest to it in earliness was in 1842. He found peach trees in bloom on the 10th inst. Professor Riley said, however, that he had made a similar observation in 1808, during February, and Dr. Englemann admitted that his record for that year was blank, as he was then absent from St. Louis. Dr. Englemann is engaged in making careful observations on the order in which trees blossom and cereals ripen, hoping by tabulating and comparing such facts to arrive at more general laws.

What a dreadful bore it must be to be President. Take the single case of the Chicago pension agency. Over 50 letters in Mrs. Mulligan's interest were written Mr. Hayes, to say nothing of a satchel full of indorsements by hundreds of other people, and then a lot of personal interviews on top of all. And this only one side of one office!

One day you will be pleased with a friend and the next day disappointed in him. It will be so to the end, and you must make your mind up to it and not quarrel, unless for very grave causes. Your friend, you have found out, is not perfect. Nor are you, and you cannot expect to get much more than you give. You must look for weakness, foolishness and vanity in human nature; it is unhappy if you are too sharp in seeing them.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
Great Through Line
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.

The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

CONSTRUCTION AND EQUIPMENT
THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM of SAFETY SIGNALS,
Janney Coupler, Buffer and Platform,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

The Scenery
OF THE PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty, and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A Pleasing and Memorable Experience.
